NEXT MOVE IN EUROPEAN WAR DRAMA UP TO RULER OF GERMANY

CZAR TODAY PROCLAIMS THE GENERAL MOBILIZATION OF TROOPS IN EUROPEAN RUSSIA

NOTIFICATION TO POWERS

Continental Press Censorship Tonight Hides Scenes and Actors
in Great Struggle.

GERMANY IN STATE OF WAR

This Announcement Causes Momen-
tary Expectation of Declaration of War by Germany.

(By United Press.)

London, July 31.—Russia has proclaimed a general mobilization of her entire army in western districts. Announcement of this fact was received at the foreign office this evening, presumably through the British ambassador at St. Petersburg. It is believed that similar notification has been given other powers. The announcement puts the next move directly up to the Kaiser.

Continental press censorship tonight
hides the scenes and the actors in Europe's war drama. London, the only European capital whose press is free to print the news, is without the facts to publish. Unverified rumors abounded tonight.

The Balkans are completely isolated. Not one confirmed news dispatch has come from south of the Danube.
Vienna is almost unreported.

Germany has formally announced a state of war but has denied the mobilization of her armies. There seems no doubt that German mobilization is being rushed at top speed.

Tonight the whole of Europe confidently believes that August 1, 1914,
will be written in blood on the calendar
of the world's history.

GERMANY IN STATE OF WAR

Latest Move Places Everything at Army's Disposal.

(By United Press.)

London, July 31.—Germany was today declared in a state of war.
This word received through semi-official channels caused all England to expect momentarily a formal declaration of war against Russia
by Germany.

The latest move places all railroad, telegraph lines, channels of communication and transportation directly under the army. The German war department has superseded all other authorities throughout the German empire.

German mobilization is already secretly under way, is the belief here.
All incoming dispatches bear evidence of the most rigid censorship. All diplomatic intercourse is apparently at a standstill awaiting a word from Berlin that war is actually declared.

Ed McGraw and son John of Knightstown were visitors in this city today.

LATE WAR FLASHES

HOPE OF LOCALIZING GONE (By United Press.)

London, July 31.—A censored dispatch from Vienna states: "Hope of localizing war has been given up in all quarters." Much significance is attached to the fact that this message passed the censor.

ORDERED TO COLORS. (By United Press.)

St. Petersburg, July 31.—Orders have been issued for a general mobilization of all Russian troops in the districts west of Urals is the apparently authentic report here today. All officers and reservists of the entire Russian navy have been ordered to the colors.

4 REPORT ADMITTED. (By United Press.)

London, July 31.—The foreign office admitted this afternoon that the Czar had ordered a general mobilization of European Russia.

EXPORTATION STOPPED. (By United Press.)

Berlin, July 31.—The federal council this evening issued a formal prohibition against any exportation
from any point in the German empire
of any foodstuffs, live stock, munitions or war or fuel.

WORLD EXCHANGES CLOSE (By United Press.)

New York, July 31.—All of the world's important stock exchanges were closed today. New York, the last to suspend, did not open when it was apparent the world avalanche of selling would concentrate here. All over the United States exchanges in smaller cities, including Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia and Pittsburg followed suit.

FIRST IN MODERN TIMES (By United Press.)

London, July 31.—The London
exchange closed today until further notice. This is the first instance in modern times that it has suspended
all business.

INDIANAPOLIS CLOSES (By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Ind., July 31.—The Indianapolis stock exchange closed
today until further notice.

DIPLOMATS QUIT (By United Press.)

Berlin, July 31.—The Day News, influential imperialistic paper, today declares diplomatic relations have been broken off between Russia and Austria.

FOUR GERMAN LINERS HELD (By United Press.)

New York, July 31.—Four great trans-Atlantic liners were today
held in various ports by Germany who expects to demand their service for troop transportation in case of war. They were the Imperator, Vaterland, the two largest passenger-carrying ships in the world, and the Princess Louise and the Americka. All German lines face the possibility of having their passenger ships requisitioned by the government.

FOOD PRICES SOAR. (By United Press.)

Berlin, July 31.—Heavy purchasing for the German army this afternoon sent the prices of food staples soaring 75 per cent.

ARE IN HEART OF WARING EUROPE

Rushville Tourists May Have Difficulty Getting Home in Case of General Conflict.

WAR THREATENS MORE DAILY

Were Due to Arrive in Florence, Italy, Today, Where They Will Remain a Week.

In case of a general European war which today seems probable, the Rushville school board may have to search about for three new teachers for the Rushville schools because Miss Henrietta Coleman, supervisor of drawing; Miss Helen Scott, supervisor of music, and Miss Genevieve Brown, high school instructor, are in Europe with a party of friends seeing the sights.

Late dispatches from New York City say that "in the event of a general European war steamship lines between the belligerent countries and United States ports would be practically at a standstill." That would preclude the possibility of any tourists returning home.

The party in which the three Rushville girls are traveling is now in Europe. With them are Miss Carrie Ong of Columbus, Miss Zuella Raber
of Wolcottville and Mrs. V. P. Bird of Greensburg.

Their tour was marred at the very outset by the mishap which befell the
S. S. California, on which they sailed, in Irish waters. On Sunday night, June 21, the California hit a rock off the northern Irish coast and all of the passengers were rescued with the greatest difficulty.

Although no word has been received here from the local tourists concerning the threatened war, relatives of the Rushville girls scout the idea that they will have any difficulty coming home, according to their schedule. There has not been time for a letter to reach here since the war situation has assumed a serious aspect.

The tourists, according to their itinerary, were due to arrive in Florence, Italy, today. After a week's stay there, they will come back up through Switzerland and thence through the southern part of France to Paris. Relatives here of Miss Coleman received a letter yesterday.
When it was written, she and her party were in Vienna, the capital of Austria-Hungary. She spoke in the letter something of seeing the soldiers in Vienna, but said nothing of the prospect of war.

The Hamburg-American line representatives at Columbus, Ind., today said that in case of war only two Red Star line boats and four American liners would be allowed to sail the Atlantic. E. L. Reeves and son of Columbus, who are extensively related in this county, are in Europe and expect to sail from Cherbourg, August 7 on the Kaiser-line Augusta Victoria, if nothing prevents. The Rushville crowd expects to sail from Liverpool August 22.

In case Austria continues aggressive against Serbia and Russia keeps its promise and comes to the aid of its ally, Serbia, with Germany standing back of its ally, Austria-Hungary, the triple alliance—Germany, Italy and Austria—and the triple entente, consisting of England, Russia and France, would be involved.
Spain, Belgium, Switzerland, the Netherlands, Turkey and possibly the remainder of the Balkan states would be the only countries not engaged in actual conflict.

Paris dispatches today say that American tourists are cashing drafts at one-fourth discount for fear they

The chautauqua is in the offing waiting to be ushered in. But one day intervenes until the annual Rush county assembly, most popular of Rush county institutions, will be on its way.

From the scramble that has been made for guarantors' season tickets this far, there is every reason to believe that the attendance will be larger than ever before. The program is far more costly this year and, if for no other reason, the chautauqua would naturally attract a better and more extensive patronage.

The chautauqua management today issued a statement laying down
some stringent rules, regarding season tickets. They must be signed in ink, says the notice, and they must be presented at the gate else the holder will have to pay single admission and take a receipt. The money will be refunded on presentation of the receipt and season ticket to show it was not used for that program.

The first day's program will be an excellent one. Dr. Herbert L.
Willett, Chicago university professor and pastor of one of the largest and most influential congregations
in Chicago, will deliver two lectures.
Preludes will be furnished by Miss Leona Thomas of Arlington and Helen Axe Brown of Valparaiso.
Dr. Willett's subjects will be: afternoon, "The Man of Nazareth;"

SIGN TICKET IN INK.

The Rush County Chautauqua association today issued
the following notice:

Be sure your season ticket is signed in ink before presentation for admission. If you leave your ticket at home, buy a regular single admission ticket and take a receipt. This receipt will be refunded in cash when presented, together with the holder's season ticket unused for hour and date shown on the receipt. No admission without ticket.

COUNTY LOSES IN THE DIVISION

Pays to State $4,647.14 in Motor Vehicle Registration Fees and Gets Back $3,751.33

IS DIFFERENCE OF $895.81

Fund is Divided Three Ways and Works to Advantage of Poorer Counties Like School Fund.

County Treasurer McBride has received Rush county's part of the tax collected by the state from the registration of motor vehicles. This county received a total of $3,751.33 in the settlement just made. The settlements will be made twice a year, as is the case with the state taxes, but the January settlement will be very small as the only automobiles to be registered from now on will be new cars.

Rush county paid to the state $4,- 647.14 for the registration of automobiles. The amount received is based on the three ways of dividing the money among the ninety-two counties of the state according to the law. One third of the net receipts is divided equally among the ninety-two counties. In this division Rush county received $1,247.69. The second division of the total received by the state is made according to the number of miles of gravel roads. In this split of the money this county received $1,105.25. The remaining one third is divided according to the registration of automobiles. The greater the number of machines in a county, the larger the amount. In this division Rush county got $1,- 398.39.

This sum of money will be added to the road fund and will be used in keeping and making repairs on the roads. The law, as it pertains to the division of the money, is considered unfair by many, as in the case of the school fund law, Rush county pays to the state more than it receives.

County officials here believe that the money received from the registration of automobiles should be collected by the county or else the county should receive all of the money it pays to the state. An example of the unfairness of the present law is Brown county. This county paid the state something like $10 and will receive in return $1,200. Under the present method Rush county lost $895.81 in the registration of motor vehicles. It is stated that this amount would be as welcome, if not more so, to Rush county than some others.

The state received a total of $381,875.10 in registration fees. The expense of collecting was $35,711.40.
It is believed by many that the present law will be changed by the next legislature to make the settlements with the different counties more equal.

JOHN KITCHEN THROWN OUT

Former Rushville Man in Automobile Accident Near Columbus.

John Kitchen, of Columbus, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kitchen of this city, was one of three men who were thrown out when an automobile owned and driven by Tom Burk of Columbus turned over and fell down a ten-foot embankment late Wednesday afternoon. None was seriously injured. The car was wedged in between two trees so they had to be cut down before the car could be pulled back on the road.

CONFERENCE OF GREAT IMPORT

Gathering of More Than Hundred Former Progressives Expected to Have Bearing on Campaign.

ISSUE A PUBLIC APPEAL

State Chairman Hays Says This is in Keeping With the Pledge of Republican Platform.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 31.—A political conference, of sensational character, which was expected to have an important bearing on the 1914 campaign in Indiana and surrounding states, was held at Republican state headquarters in the Hotel Severin at noon yesterday. Of the one hundred and twenty-five from every section of Indiana who took part in this conference, every one with the exception of Will H. Hays, and L. W. Henley, chairman and secretary respectively, of the Indiana Republican state committee were leaders of the Progressive movement in Indiana in 1912. Word of the assembling of this conference came as a jolt to the politicians opposed to the Republican organization, as there had been no previous announcement made that a meeting of this character had been contemplated.

The conference opened at 12:15 in the big ball room of the Hotel Severin. The meeting continued throughout the afternoon, and a public appeal was drafted, addressed to the voters of Indiana in the behalf of a re-united Republican party.

Among the most prominent men who were Progressive leaders in Indiana in 1912 who are now actively at work in behalf of the Republican party were J. F. Wilde of Indianapolis, who was treasurer of the Indiana Progressive committee in 1912, Dr. B. A. Brown of Indianapolis, Thomas Bauer, who was elected Mayor of the city of Lafayette as a Progressive last year, Mayor J. O.
Batchelor of Marion, who was one of the big figures in the Progressive movement in 1912, Mayor J. Leeb Watkins of Newcastle, L. H. Wright of Columbus, President of the Indiana State Grange, Dr. E. M. Wells of Scottsburg, James L. Wilson of Brazil, Geo. W. Hanna of Greencas-tle, Ralph V. Solit of Peru, E. C.
Davis of Crown Point, Daniel P.
Flanagan of Lafayette, E. E. Rodgers, newspaper editor of Williamsport, W. M. Montgomery, newspaper

Shopping by Telephone

Two publications will do much to obviate the discomforts of warm weather shopping.

One is the advertising columns of The Daily Republican.
The other is a telephone directory.

First sit comfortably in the shade and do your shopping
through the advertising columns.

Then call into aid your telephone and the alert merchants
with their modern ideas of service will do the rest.

The men who advertise are the men who will serve you

NEWLYWEDS TO GET FIRST AID

Department of Agriculture Will Help June Brides on Many Questions of Home Life

MANY SUBJECTS MENTIONED

More Profitable to Market Dairy Calves Than to Raise Them, According to Statistics

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 31.—First aid to the Newlyweds is the new role of Secretary of Agriculture Houston bringing joy today to June brides.

The newly-weds who are struggling with household problems in general and the kitchen in particular have found a friend in Secretary Houston as the henchman of Uncle Sam.

Various pamphlets for free distribution touching on many subjects pertaining to home buildings are available today for the new—and old—voyagers into the seas of matrimony. There are valuable suggestions for the bride, as well as hints for hubby's use of the old back yard.

Here are some of the titles of the new bulletins being issued by the Department of Agriculture—tones of expert and authoritative knowledge: "Meat, Composition and Cooking," "Economic Use of Meat in the Home," "Eggs and Their Use as Food," "Beans, Peas and Legumes as Food," "Care of Milk and its Use in the Home," "Cereal as Breakfast Food," "Sugar as Food," "Cheese and its Economical Use in the Diet," "Potatoes and Other Root Crops as Food," and the "Food Value of Nuts."

Then there are a host of bulletins that make for home beauty and prosperity, such as: "Weeds and How to Kill Them," "Beautifying Home Grounds," "Annual Flowering Plant," "The Home Vegetable Garden," "Woods Used in Medicines," and money making tips such as "Mushroom Culture" and "Squash Raising." The woman who owns or lives on a farm is remembered in the following bulletins: "Canning Peaches on the Farm," "Poultry Management," "Butter Making on the Farm" and "Cheese Making on the Farm." Hints on the care of Ducks, geese, turkeys and chickens are given in other bulletins.

All of the bulletins are labeled "reliable" and usually give copious notes and informations on the subject treated.

Write to the Department and give the correct title of the bulletin desired if interested in the subjects enumerated above.

Unless stock raisers have unlimited means it is usually more profitable to market dairy calves than to attempt to raise them, according to statistics compiled by the Department of Agriculture, even though they might make good steers.

"While many deplore the heavy slaughter of calves, and legislation against it has been urged, the consumer's demand for veal must be met," the Department declares. "Farmers who formerly bought nearly finished cattle as feeders have been compelled to pay higher prices for such cattle or to take thinner animals," is another interesting comment of the Department on the beef supply situation. Formerly, it is stated, steers from four to six years old were fed in large numbers, but because of the great change in the cattle business in recent years, this method has become too expensive. Feeding is now conducted upon farms more extensively than ever before, instead of in large numbers in commercial feed yards near granaries or mills, as a means of marketing farm products by converting them into beef, while the manure product is utilized as ably-product to maintain fertility.

A nation-wide campaign against the Hessian fly, the pest of wheat growers, has been inaugurated by the Department of Agriculture. General co-operation in fighting the pest is the aim of the movement. There is every indication, according to the Department, that the fly will be unusually troublesome this fall. Every wheat grower in the country who suspects that his wheat is infested by the fly is being urged by the Department to send immediate notification and a campaign will then be begun to eradicate the pest. The Department is also co-operating with certain state experiment stations against the pest and infested straw will be examined by the local authorities.

"Probably no other insect causes more damage to the wheat crop in the United States than the Hessian fly," the Department declares, "although there are certain years when the chinch bug exceeds the fly devastations. During the season when the fly is abundant hundreds of thousands of acres of wheat may be totally destroyed or so badly injured as to reduce the yield 50 to 75 per cent. The monetary loss runs far up into millions." Late sowing of seeds and burning of stubble when not seeded to grass or clover are the only known measures effective in controlling the Hessian fly for winter wheat growing sections, late-seeding being injurious rather than a precaution in the spring-wheat sections.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all hair-dress goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Society News

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winship, south of this city, will entertain tonight with a six o'clock dinner, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bussard and Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley.

Simeon Stewart entertained last evening with an elaborate six o'clock dinner, at his home in North Main street. About fifteen guests were present.

Miss Ramona M. Ewbank entertained a number of friends at her home northeast of the city Thursday with a dinner party in honor of Miss Mabel Beckett of Aurora, Ind., and Miss Grace Wheaton of Cincinnati. An elaborate five course dinner was served. Those present were the Misses Mildred Sparks of Greenfield, Marian Scholl, Mildred Myers, Lucile Gray, Jean McClanahan, Leah Flint and Marian Sparks.

Amusements

The Princess offers a two reel Vitagraph "Johanna, The Barbarian" for the first picture tonight. Anna Shaefer is featured and it is said to tell a dramatic story. The other is a Biograph comedy entitled "The Road to Plaindale." Irene Hawley is shown in this one and it is said to tell a novel story.

The Portola will show a three reel Edison feature "The Southerners" for tonight's program. Mable Trunnell, Biglow Cooper, Herbert Prior and Augustus Phillips are featured. It is said to be a thrilling picture telling a dramatic story. Tomorrow night a big feature in four parts, "The Great Mine Disaster" will be shown.

The Gem will show a very strong program tonight. J. Warren Kerrigan in "The Sheep Herder," a two reel Victor, opens the program. Sheep herders are held in contempt, even by the laymen, who know only remotely of the struggle between the sheepmen and the cattlemen for possession of the western ranges. In "The Sheep Herder" Kerrigan takes the title role and ends by making the lowly caretaker of migratory mutton a real hero. A herd of 2,000 sheep is used as a realistic asset in the story. King Baggot will be seen in a classy comedy, "A Mexican Warrior." Tomorrow the sixth of the "Lucille Love" pictures will be shown.

ASSEMBLY CLOSES SUNDAY

Milroy's First Chautauqua Will End With Big Program.

Sunday will see the close of Milroy's first five-day chautauqua when James A. Collins, former police judge in Indianapolis, will give two lectures. In the afternoon his subject will be "Humanizing a Court," and in the evening, "Pulling Against the Tide." Elma B. Smith, child impersonator, and Mae Sheppard, grand opera recitalist, will give the prelude to the last day. Tomorrow Edward J. Skelton's university orchestra of Madison, Wis., will give the prelude in the afternoon and a full concert in the evening. In the afternoon, Harry G. Hill, head of the Peoples church of Indianapolis, will lecture on "Heroes in Overalls."

Today's program consisted of two lectures by Frank A. Gause, an authority on Panama, one this afternoon and one tonight. The preludes were to be given by Tom Morgan, baritone, and J. R. Barkley, cartoonist and clay modeler. The chautauqua has given universal satisfaction in Milroy and vicinity.

The I. & C. Traction Co. will run two sections of the 12:20 p. m. trains Sunday, August 2, to accommodate those wishing to attend the ball game at Connersville between the Arcadians and the Connersville teams. Game called at 2:30 p. m. 120t2.

REFUSES TO PAY HIS LICENSE FEE

Charles M. Archer, Manager of Story & Clark Piano Store Here Would Not Comply.

CHARGES ARE PREFERRED

Archer Maintains That His Business Here is Not Transient, But Others Think Differently.

Charles M. Archer, of Indianapolis, manager of the Story and Clark piano company, will be arraigned before Mayor Bebout Monday morning at ten-thirty o'clock, to show why his company should not pay a penalty for selling goods without first paying the necessary tax or license. The Indianapolis firm opened a branch store here a few weeks ago in West Second street, and according to the state law, a transient firm must pay a license fee or tax. This is usually placed at $50.

The county treasurer made a demand for the money but the firm did not pay. An affidavit was filed before Mayor Bebout and the case will be heard Monday. The penalty for not paying the license fee is $10 a day for each and every day the tax remains unpaid.

A demand was made that the firm pay the tax in order to protect local merchant. The Rushville merchants pay taxes and it was pointed out that it was not fair to let this piano company come in here for a short time and not pay a license. The company escaped in Shelby county but they will not be so fortunate here, it is thought.

The Chamber of Commerce was active in the investigation which led up to the demand being made on the transients by the county treasurer. It is said that Mr. Archer asserts that the law is not applicable to his branch here because he intends to continue in business here. It is known that he has attempted to lease a room since the charges were filed.

The Chamber of Commerce is aware of the fact that this same branch which is now located here was in both Columbus and Shelbyville. Mr. Archer is reported to have said he did not remain in Shelbyville because he did not like the place. The Chamber of Commerce has written to both Columbus and Shelbyville to get witnesses to prove the contention that the store here is a transient and not a permanent business.

The I. & C. Traction Co. will run two sections of the 12:20 p. m. trains Sunday, August 2, to accommodate those wishing to attend the ball game at Connersville between the Arcadians and the Connersville teams. Game called at 2:30 p. m. 120t2.

This picture contains many beautiful scenes, the most of which are taken on the western prairies. The plot is interesting and cleverly developed. A pretty love story simmers through the plot. Taggart as a Predictor.

Tom Taggart, co-partner with Crawford Fairbanks, the brewer, in the management of the Democratic organization in Indiana, has been in Washington this week telling everybody who cared to listen to him, including the newspapers, how fine business generally is in Indiana, and how "remarkably strong" is the Progressive movement in the state. Taggart is the same man, who, in 1904, predicted that Alton B. Parker Democratic candidate for President, would carry Indiana by 50,000. It will be remembered that the Republicans at the election in the following November carried Indiana by 90,000. Taggart is the same man who, as Indiana Democratic state chairman in 1894, a night or two before election, predicted that the Democrats would carry the state by a tremendous plurality. At the election however, the Republicans carried the state in a landslide and elected every member of Congress. As a political prophet Taggart's record is not very impressive, in fact, in political circles, his forecasts are always regarded as jokes of large proportions.

The truth of the matter is, Taggart went to Washington for the sole purpose of "wishing up" the members of the Indiana Democratic delegation in Congress to the great danger that confronts them from a militant Republican organization. It is understood that Taggart advised a number of the Congressmen to get back home as quickly as they possibly could and go to work in dead earnest. It is said that Taggart, in his private conversation, advised them that the Bull Moose movement in Indiana had dissipated until it could no longer be considered a real factor in the contest between the Democratic and Republican parties. It is said that Taggart is not pleased with the situation in the First, Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth and Thirteenth districts and that he advised members from those districts that some heroic work was in order to save these districts from going into the Republican column in November.

If Taggart really thought that there was still some life in the Progressive movement in Indiana he would hustle to take down at least a part of the barrel of money that is offered on Hugh Th Miller the Republican nominee for U. S. Senator, on the betting boards of Indianapolis.

What Our Neighbors
Are Talking About
*****

More Evidence.

(Columbus Republican.)

Tom Taggart, the absolute boss of Hoosier democracy, who is jaunting about the East in his own touring car, has arrived at Washington and now submits himself to the interviewer, who is ever ready to work on a willing or unwilling victim. But the Hoosier Tom is perfectly willing. Now, Tom's best act is always politics, and he is perfectly willing to do a "double trick" at the job if he only may be of service to democracy. In the interviews at hand the Orange county statesman (temporary residence only) throws a few gobs of gladness into the bull moose aggregation in Indiana. He realizes that the organization headed by Albert J. Beveridge is the best asset the democracy of Indiana possesses and it's his particular purpose at this time to apply the necessary encouragement and to do this he tells the Washington interview getter that the progressives will be second only to the democrats in Indiana in the fall election results and he puts the democrats first. He might not be so far wrong if he would concede the state to the Republicans, but he don't do this, and goes on record, staking his reputation as a political prophet, or seer, on the statement that the progressives will poll more votes in Indiana in November than the Republicans will. Taggart knows better than this. He knows that every indication—the poll, local primaries, confidential reports to his party headquarters from practically every precinct in the state, point to directly the opposite; that the trend is decidedly toward the republican party, not only from progressives returning home by the thousands, but from democratic accessions in constantly increasing numbers. He knows absolutely that the democratic state committee is in a panic of fear because of the continually brightening prospect of Republican success. He knows absolutely that the progressive party in Indiana will not be better than in third place, if, indeed, its vote is not subordinate in numbers to that east by either the prohibitionists or socialists.

Quite Impossible

(Muncie Press)

A staff correspondent of the Indianapolis News, writing from Boston declares that business is off in New England only about 15 per cent, and that the return of prosperity is demonstrated by the fact that the cloth makers have recently advanced prices? Don't the readers of the Indianapolis News know better than that? Don't they understand that the infamous schedule K of the damnable Payne-Aldrich law was responsible for high prices? Don't they know that the high cost of living problem has been solved by tariff reduction, just as the Indianapolis News promised it would be? Why, then, babble about prices being higher? Everybody knows that couldn't be so. The trusts are busted, we are mastering the markets of the world, one can buy the necessities of life for next to nothing and every body has the price—in fact the millenium has been turned on, just as the News has been saying for lo, these many years it would be, just as soon as the unspeakable protective tariff laws were wiped off the statue books.

WILL DISCUSS ORGANIZATION

Republican State Chairmen of Eight Central States Will Get Together in Chicago

THE POLITICAL SIGNIFICANCE

Meeting is for Purpose of Exchanging Views and to Advance Interest of Party

Indianapolis, Ind., July 31.—The announcement that there would be a meeting at the Congress Hotel in Chicago next Monday of the Republican state chairmen of Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan aroused considerable interest throughout the central states and gave rise to speculation among politicians as to the purpose and significance of the meeting. In the absence of a definite statement as to the object of the session, a motive was assigned for the meeting, that according to Will H. Hays, Indiana Republican state chairman, who called the conference, is erroneous. According to Chairman Hays, no significance can be attached to this meeting which was called for a single purpose of an exchange of views for the advancement of the interest of the Republican party in the various states.

"It is true that there will be a meeting of the Republican state chairmen of Illinois, Missouri, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, Iowa, West Virginia and Indiana in Chicago on next Monday," said State Chairman Hays, "but this meeting is only for the purpose of the discussion by these Republican state chairmen of the plans of organization in the several states and for the interchange of mutual suggestions, exchange of speakers, etc., and for social purposes. The meeting is not in any sense in accordance with any other prearranged purpose and has no other significance except that mentioned. We have thought that by this meeting we can all get ideas which will be of mutual advantage in the campaign for the success of the Republican party in the several states.

Press notices and newspaper comments speak very highly of the work of Miss Brown, who is the daughter of the president of Valparaiso university at Valparaiso, Ind. He is the founder of the institution. Voice technic and temperament explain the great success of Miss Brown on the concert stage. Through her clear cut diction, her brilliant tones, her dramatic power, she shows perfect control of a voice naturally beautiful in quality, and in addition to this she comprehends the exalted mood or oratorio, and lives the varying experiences of joy and pain presented in her repertoire of classic and modern songs. In her temperament and imagination blend with technical skill and understanding into an effect of perfect spontaneity.

CROWD GOING TO CONNERSVILLE

I. & C. to Run Special Cars to Accommodate Fans Going Over For Big Ball Game.

ARCADIANS ARE CONFIDENT

Manager Davidson Will Make no Changes Believing His Team Fast Enough For Greys.

(By Doc Hiner.)

Arrangements have been made with the I. & C. to run extra cars to Connerville Sunday to accommodate the crowd going from here for the game between the Arcadians and the Connerville team. It is expected that between two and three hundred fans will make the trip to Connerville. An extra car will leave here at 12:20 o'clock and the crowd will have no difficulty getting to the game.

The fans here are fully convinced that the Arcadians will beat Connerville and the team is just as confident. Rushville has a regular team and Connerville will know they have been in a game. The Arcadians have been going good and Manager Davidson will make no changes in the lineup Sunday.

Word was received from Manager Remington today that he would use practically the same line up against Rushville as he did last Sunday against Richmond. Al Werner will do the pitching and Keifel will do the catching. Heisman will be seen at third, Maxwell at short and our old friend Quiesner will be at second. Red O'Connell has been switched to the outfield. The Connerville team is known to be a good hitting team but if they outbat the Arcadians they will have to step some.

Manager Davidson believes his team is good enough and will start Heller on the mound with Bob Good-fellow behind the bat. Humpty Badel will be at his usual place, first base. The rest of the infield will remain the same with Barton at second, Hasselback at short, and Long on third. The outfield will be composed of Todd, Hellmund and the heavy hitting Sandman.

The two teams hope for a fast clean game and the double umpire system will be used. The umpires are Quinn and Poston. Since the two defeats handed Rushville earlier in the season Connerville believes the Rushville team will prove easy, but they will find that they are up against a real ball team in the game Sunday.

For months Rushville readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit?

Mrs. W. A. Wylie, 824, N. Arthur St., Rushville Ind., says: "One of the family had attacks of backache, caused by disordered kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to our attention and we got a supply at Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store. Two boxes relieved him of the trouble. Our former endorsement of this remedy, still holds good."

GREAT RACE IS ON IN AMERICAN

There is Grand Scramble as to Which Team Will Grab off This Year's Pennant

MACK'S ATHLETICS HAVE EDGE

Cardinals Are Surprise of National League but New York Looks Good to Repeat

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for United Press.)

New York, July 31.—Never was there such a great little old scramble in which pulling, pushing, tripping and wide open fighting has kept half a dozen clubs involved, worked its way through June and July, and started to swing into August as the present American League scrap is doing. If you don't have a revised standing of the clubs every morning for breakfast the whole day is spoiled. A team looks like a pennant contender today and fit to drop into a deep hole in the old family pond with a rock to weight 'em down tomorrow. Day after tomorrow everyone wants to find the rock, cut the string, and let 'em up. They're going again.

From the start Connie Mack has kept up his little dog trot that has kept the Athletics in front, not with any wondrous flashes of form, but with a consistent jog. Others have been up and down. Turning over the pages in search of the dope to see why for the wherefor, the answer isn't there.

The Chicago White Sox, buzzing and whizzing into the streak that carried them near the top and still makes them regarded as among those who may be present, have been a big help to the Athletics. Only the New York Yankees have furnished Connie Mack with more nourishment than Callahan's crew. Up to July 20 the Sox had won only three games from the Athletics which Mack had annexed eight set-tos with Callahan. The Yankees did the best they could and helped the Athletics along with ten games, taking but five in the meantime to put in their own yawning pantry. The St. Louis Browns still refuse to hand anything to the champions in the tussle, having broken even with five games won and five lost up to July 20. Detroit, up to the same time, has also put up a fifty-fifty fight, dividing ten battles. Going through the list, up to July 20, the Athletics had disposed of the various teams as follows: won seven and lost four to Washington; won eight and lost seven to Boston; won five and lost two to Cleveland.

Just to show how you never can tell the aforesaid wherefor of the why-for, the old Washington-Cleveland feud has been on with considerable fire and brimstone, and Cleveland this year has the edge. The Naps are buried deep in a dark corner of the cellar. Washington is up among the elite who have the fun of seeing their standing changed every twenty-four hours or so, but the Naps have walloped Washington six times to the five occasions on which they have been on the shore end.

Although leading the National League, the step of the Giants has been so uncertain that they have drawn the worst of the argument with the Cardinals and haven't any great edge over the Cubs and the Phillies.

The Cardinals have watched for the Giants with a big stuffed club—stuffed with nothing soft. As a result of the last series, during which their winged McGraw for three in a row, the Cards now had, up to July 20, seven victories over the Giants their credit, against five defeats. Hank O'Day had lost the decision up to July 20 by the measly margin of one game. The Cubs had, up to that date, grabbed five from the Giants, and lost six.

Against the Phillies McGraw has been returned a winner eight times. On six occasions the Polo Ground clan has been clubbed into submission by the Phillies. To the Herzoggian Reds McGraw has lost only two games; from them he has garnered five needed victories.

Mack's former trainer, Robinson, now manager of those Brooklyn Dodgers, has contributed seven victories to his former boss. Against the seven games won from Brooklyn, the New Yorkers have lost five—not a big margin when it is remembered how slightly every Manhattanite speaks of all Brooklyn.

But from Boston and Pittsburgh together, up to July 20 the Giants had snatched fifteen victories against seven defeats. Eight of these victories came from the Braves to whom the Giants had lost only three games. The Pittsburgh-Giant standing up to July 20 gave the Giants seven wins and four defeats.

As a result of this scrambled, not to say mangled mess, in both leagues, more than precedent is likely to be fractured this year. A rare assortment of records fell all in one day at Pittsburgh when the Giants won that famous twenty-one inning game, but who would have thought of a team winning the pennant with less than 100 victories. Echo failing, we ourselves rise to answer that none had, up to this year, ever had such a thought. Present indications are that the team winning between 80 and 90 games may be the team that cops this season.

The Psi Iota Xi will sell cakes Saturday morning at the Davis and Jones Millinery Store. 11912

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

Says Backache is a sign you have been eating too much meat, which forms uric acid.

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and loggy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous waste, else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water scalds and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

• Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.

SPENCER PAYS DEATH PENALTY

Tango Murderer Dies on Gallows
for Killing Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat at Wheaton.

CONFESSED TO MANY CRIMES

Admitted That He Had Killed Score of Women—His Trial Was Very Sensational

Wheaton, Ill., July 31.—Henry Spencer, "tango murderer," and dubbed by criminologists "the man without a soul," went to death on the gallows here today for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Allison-Rexroat, Chicago dancing teacher, near Wayne, Ill., on the night of September 28, 1913. Only a small knot of spectators saw the death trap sprung. These included a score of newspaper reporters and photographers from Chicago papers and a few intimate friends of Sheriff Kuhns of Dupage county, who had charge of the execution.

The crime for which Spencer paid with his life, his subsequent startling confession that he had killed nearly a score of women in all parts of the country, and the apparent cheerfulness with which he received the verdict of death, attracted national interest in his case. Alienists criminologists, even admitting the strange influence exerted by opium upon Spencer's brain pronounced him one of the most remarkable criminals of recent years. Mrs. Allison-Rexroat who shortly after her divorce to her first husband, Allison, had married Rexroat, a young farmer living near Macomb, Ill., was engaged as a tango teacher at a Chicago dancing school. She boarded an interurban car on the night of September 28 for Wayne, Ill., a short distance from Chicago, where she had asked over the telephone to start a new class in the tango. Early the following morning her body, horribly mangled, was found on the railroad tracks near Wayne, in a lonely ravine. Close examination showed that the tango teacher had been slain before her body was struck by the train.

Various clues were run down by the police without success and at least a dozen suspects were arrested before Spencer was taken into custody. Then by a queer turn of fate, the man who afterward described himself as both a "ladykiller" and a "woman-hater" was betrayed by a woman to whom he offered a $300 diamond ring he had taken from the body of the murdered woman.

Lured to the woman's home, Spencer was trapped and arrested by detectives after a desperate struggle. His trunk, in a rooming house run by a quiet elderly couple on the South Side, revealed more evidence connecting him with the crime, and under a severe sweating he broke down and confessed.

Under skillful guidance from the police, Spencer a weak-faced little man with rat eyes, recited a remarkable crime record. He swore that he had killed more than twenty persons, mostly women, had robbed and assaulted many others, and had set fire to a big apartment, causing the loss of another life.

"Women, Dam 'em—Hate 'em! They always played me for a sucker and I killed them just like flies," he screamed in one of his outbursts of passion.

By communicating with authorities all over the country, the larger part of Spencer's amazing tale was discredited. In a few instances facts apparently supported his claims that he had other murder victims on his famous death list. While he was reciting his story, the Rev. Johnstone Meyers of Immanuel church, came forward to tell that Spencer had been a regular attendant at his church and had professed to be deeply interested in church work. Spencer's trial in the little brick courthouse here was full of thrills. He frequently rose in his seat to denounce the judge, the jury and his own attorney in outbursts of profanity. Once he knocked his own attorney down in open court and his incessant cry during the trial was "Let's cut this damned foolishness and put on the necktie party. I'm not nutty and I'm willing to be hanged."

Against Spencer's own confession and incriminating circumstances, the defense could offer only a plea of insanity and that Spencer was a victim of a police "frame-up" and was being railroaded to the gallows. The jury gave this little consideration and on November 14, Spencer was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged early in December. His attorneys secured a stay of execution and took an appeal to the Illinois Supreme Court. On June 15, 1914, the supreme court affirmed the lower court's verdict ruling that evidence of Spencer's depravity was not sufficient to justify the opinion that he was insane. The supreme court fixed the execution for today between the hours of 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Since his imprisonment here, Spencer has read the Bible daily and has had weekly talks with church workers. He has not changed his early declarations that he was ready and willing to die.

TRIES TO EVEN UP ON COUNTRYMAN

Italian "Bootleggers" Attempts to Get Revenge on Man That Was Responsible For Arrest.

HIS FINES AMOUNTED TO $360

(By United Press.)

Bloomington, Ind., July 31.—That the spirit of the American republic does not always soften the old instinctive spirit of revenge in the heart of the immigrant is shown in a recent case in this city, which has been unearthed by Prosecutor Barclay.

Several months ago a United States marshal came to this city and after investigating conditions in the "blind tiger" district arrested Vito Solomito, an Italian "bootlegger." Solomito pleaded guilty in federal court at Indianapolis and was given fines that amounted to $360. Returning Solomito found that Joe Delilio and his common-law wife gave out the information that led to his arrest.

A short time ago a "blind tiger" was found near the home of Delilio. Delilio was arrested by the local officers and placed in jail. He pleaded not guilty saying that he knew nothing of the illegal sale near his home. Upon investigation in the Italian quarry camp, Prosecutor Barclay found that the sale was being carried on by an agent of Solomito and that the two had caused suspicion to rest on the family that had been responsible for Solomito's arrest.

NOTICE!

After a very careful consideration we have decided to change our business on August 1st to a strictly cash system.

Our main reason for doing this is that we are anxious to furnish you goods as low or even lower than any house offering like qualities. This we fully realize is not possible under the credit system, as loss from bad accounts (which is considerable, even with the best of care) must be made good by those who pay.

There is no getting around this. Stop and think carefully if you prefer to go and pay for your accommodations and help pay for those bad accounts and the expense connected, (which are big items that must be provided for), or would you rather get the benefit of a strictly cash system, of which, as a rule, you are already able to take advantage.

CALLED SAFETY VALVE OF HOUSE

James R. Mann, Republican Floor Leader, Attends Every Session and Always Debates.

IS SELDOM EVER ANGERED

Takes House to Task For Little Evasions of Parliamentary Law Here of Late.

BY BURTON K. STANDISH.
Washington, July 31.—“The safety valve of the House” is the newest title of James R. (“Jim”) Mann, congressman from Chicago, Republican floor leader, and one of the few G. O. P. survivors of the days of “Uncle Joe.”

Mann attends every session, talks, argues and debates on the floor hundreds of times every day; saunters from seat to seat greeting the members; stops here and there to listen to a story; always rises in an emergency to “give the facts” and House to task for little evasions of seldom if ever, is he angered.

Of late Mann has been calling the parliamentary law, or procedure or for heated attacks. Recently when two representatives in the heat of a debate, severely criticised the courts and the judiciary, Mann arose, in his quiet unassuming manner, walked slowly to the front of the hall, and said in a conversational tone something like this.

“Gentlemen, the House is becoming too prone to criticise the courts and to attack the judiciary. I know it is done when the members are aroused and prodded during debate but I just want to get up here today and save the face of Congress by telling the country this great representative body has only the greatest and profoundest respect and admiration of our judicial system.”

Then everyone—Democrats, Progressives and Republicans will applaud and the House will go about its business.

Frequently one can see Mann, with the joy of a little boy, go up behind a bald headed man and pat him on the head. Then they'll laugh, shake hands and chat for two or three minutes. Mann will return to his seat. Two congressmen will be engaged in a lively debate. When they get to the point where blows seem inevitable up jumps Mann with a little pleasantry, the House roars with laughter and the two “heated” speakers forget their animosity.

Some days ago Mann was leading the debate on the Republican side. At a remark of his Democrats jumped up simultaneously and demanded that Mann stop to listen to explanations. It was evident that they were ready to practically “claw” him with speeches. Mann, observing their temper, stopped, bowed low, saluted them with his right hand and said:

“Yes, Mr. Speaker, I yield to the two elegant gentlemen.” The House laughed again. The speakers forgot their ire, asked their questions in a dignified tone, a soft reply came back and everything was peacefully settled.

Mann is serving his tenth term as a member of Congress. He has gray hair, parchment colored skin, is short, plump and has fat red cheeks. A carefully trimmed beard is one of his chief recognition marks. He has but one habit—so far as his colleagues observed—but it is difficult to describe. During the hot Summer days Mann can be seen turning his right hand completely around and shaking his arm. He does this so often during the day that his coat sleeve “climbs” almost to his elbow.

During the height of the discussion as to whether Paul M. Warburg could be confirmed without appearing before the Senate Banking and Currency Committee Senator Hitchcock was asked, during a conference with the newspaper men by “Red Buck” Bryant of the New York World, whether he would be surprised to find a telegram from Warburg saying he was coming.

“I certainly would,” said Hitchcock “which reminds me of the old farmer who thought he would surprise his wife. She had been dogging him to be a little neater, and wear better clothes, so one day, after making some sales in town he bought an entire new outfit—suit, hat, shoes and sox, underclothes—everything.”

“On the way home he decided it would surprise his good woman still more if he appeared before her in his new duds. Stopping on the bank of the stream, he removed one old garment after the other, dropping them one by one into the stream. Finally he got ready to put on his clothes, when he discovered that the bundle of new clothes had fallen into the stream and been carried away too.”

“So there was nothing to do but whip up the horses and rush home. The point is that he surprised his wife alright.”

editor of the Shelbyville, E. D. Bush of Indianapolis; J. S. Holliday, O. U. Newman, Theo. Stein, Sr. J. P. O'Mahony, Dr. John Kolmer, Marshall Pugh, Albert C. Metcalf, John Bowles, Orison B. Hayes, Chas. L. Dietz, Robert L. Dorsey, Geo. A. Snider, Orville Harrison, Ellsworth Heller, and John D. Carter.

Every congressional district in the state was represented at this conference. Former Progressive leaders were present from Vanderburg and Spencer county in the southwest corner of the state. Lake, Porter, and other counties of the northwestern part of the state were represented by former Progressive leaders; Noble, Allen, Steuben, and other counties of the northeastern part of the state were represented as were Ohio, Switzerland, Jefferson and other counties in the extreme southeastern section of the state.

“This conference at Republican state headquarters with former representative Progressives who are now actively engaged in the advancing interests of the Republican party,” said State Chairman Hays, “means that the Republican state organization is carrying out to the letter the pledge contained in the platform adopted at the recent Indiana Republican State convention regarding the management of the party's affairs. The plank said that it would be the duty and privilege of every voter to have a full share in the party's management and responsibilities. I believe that this conference will have the effect of convincing every one in Indiana that the Republican organization is standing firmly on the party's platform and intends to see that its pledges to the people of Indiana are kept. This conference tells plainer than words can tell the story that the rank and file of the Progressive party is with us heart and soul in their support of the party of protection.”

The appeal is addressed “To the Voters of Indiana.” It is as follows:

“In 1912, for reasons which we deemed sufficient, thousands of Republicans voted other tickets.

“These reasons no longer exist. Organized protest against methods and men, not against principles, was effectual. The purpose of the third party is accomplished. The present duty and privilege of those who made this protest is now apparent, and thousands upon thousands have joined again the Republican forces for sure and permanent progress.

“The Democratic party has again demonstrated its utter incapability to conduct the governmental affairs of this country. The Democratic administration at Washington is a signal failure—a cataclysm of perverted purposes and broken promises. The Democratic state administration in Indiana is a tragedy of extravagances—its tax levying and debt-making activities measured only by the possibilities. In its zeal to spend the people's money, laws are signed, published and enforced which never were enacted—a state's disgrace.

“To change these conditions in state and nation is the absolute duty of every good citizen. To the Republican party now, as in the past, we turn for deliverance. On the practice of its principles depends the preservation of our institution; on its success depends the country's welfare. The Republican party is the only one effectual instrument in this country to apply to wrong conditions and to new conditions the wisdom of experience and the efficacy of honest, zealous service. There neither is nor can be any other possible agency.

“Therefore, we appeal to men of all political parties and especially to those others who, with us in 1912, for any reason, voted the Progressive ticket, now to join with us, as effort to bring again to the country Republicans, in the great reunited the prosperity to which it is entitled and to Indiana again the efficient government which we deserve. The solution of the situation is a matter of patriotism. Let us aid, not obstruct—all that no harm shall come to the republic.”

The list of men who Chairman Hays and Secretary Henley said were in the meeting follows:

would be unable to realize anything on them at all in case of a general war. The money markets of Europe are very close because of the serious prospect of a general conflict. The exchanges at most of the European capitals have closed. The Bank of England yesterday raised its minimum rate of discount a whole point, making it four per cent now.

A Paris dispatch today says a semi panic has broken out among some of the American travelers, who see the possibility of being kept in Europe indefinitely should a general war break out, as nearly half of the passenger steamers probably would cease running on the transatlantic service.

The Paris offices of the German steamship lines sold tickets today with the condition that the money would be refunded in case war would put a stop to sailing. Many travelers may be delayed until the new year before being able to get home to the United States should hostilities occur.

There was a steady demand today at the Paris office of all the lines by those who have return reservations, many of whom requested earlier accommodations. Most of the boats are already fully booked until Oct. 15, but on some of the liners a few expensive cabins are disengaged.

2,000 SERVANS HELD PRISONERS

Official Figures From Front Are 800

Slain in First Battle in Austro-Servian War.

600 SERBS; 200 AUSTRIANS

Austrians Cross Danube 30 Miles

East of Belgrade and the Save 10 Miles to the East.

Vienna, July 31.—Reports reaching here say that 2,000 Servians are held as prisoners of war as a result of the first big battle, which was fought yesterday on the Bosnian frontier near Fotehs.

Six hundred Servians and 200 Austrians were killed in this engagement, according to the official figures from the front.

Austrians crossed the Danube 30 miles to the east of Belgrade and the Save 10 miles to the south. Belgrade has been captured and is now occupied by Austrian troops, and the force which invaded Serbia at Semendria is advancing along the road which leads to Osipianica and ultimately to Nish.

Servians are massing their main forces between Kraguevatz and Krashevatz on the line of the Morava River.

The occupation of Belgrade was carried out without serious difficulty. The invading troops crossed the river, partly by means of the remnants of the railway bridge, which was blown up by the Servians, and partly by a pontoon bridge constructed under its cover, and approached the Servian capital from the south.

The attacking forces advanced by a steep hill, driving the Servians before them. The Servians retreated, partly along the road leading to Groca and partly toward Popovics. The losses on both sides appeared to have been comparatively light.

The invasion of Serbia at Semendria was a much more difficult task. The Austrians built a pontoon bridge under the cover of darkness from an island in the middle of the Danube, where the channel narrows to 200 yards and the current is swift.

The construction of the bridge was a hazardous operation. The work was perceived from the Servian shore, and the Servians opened fire. The attacking forces were aided by artillery and infantry along the south shore of the island, and succeeded in completing the bridge, over which they passed.

On the western side of Serbia an Austrian column came into contact with a Servian force at Losniza, which put up a stubborn resistance and held the fort there until dark, inflicting heavy losses on the Austrians. The Southern Austrian column in Bosnia remained stationary, awaiting the movement of the Montenegrin troops.

HOUSE DAMAGED BY FIRE

Frank Myers' Home, 616 W. Eighth, Catches From Trash Pile.

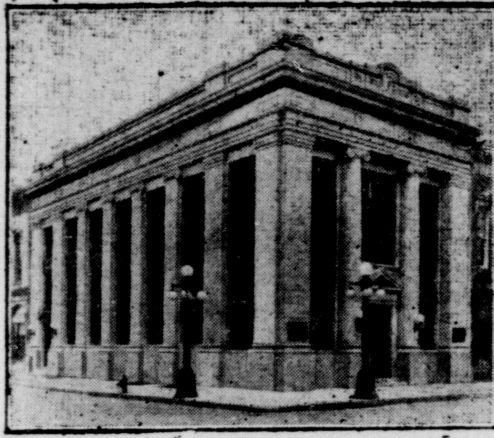

The residence occupied by Frank Myers, 616 West Eighth street, owned by the Rushville National bank, was badly damaged by fire this afternoon shortly before three o'clock. The fire started in a shed in the rear of the house and the flames spread to the dwelling. The roof was badly damaged. Most of the household goods were taken from the house before the flames spread. It is not known how the fire started but it is believed to have started in a trash pile in the shed. The bank carried $1,000 insurance on the house and the loss will be fully covered.

A barn at this property was destroyed by fire about one year ago.
